

Government to Test Arizona Beans

Edward Bowers, of McNeal, Ships 800 Pounds to Agriculture Department.

McNEAL, Ariz., Feb. 18.—For testing purposes, Edward Bowers has shipped 800 pounds of tepary beans to the department of agriculture at Washington. They have been used by the Indians for generations while not so large or highly flavored as the pink beans, they are said to produce about twice the quantity per acre.

F. H. Williams, who teaches in the Carmel district, is building a cement tank to hold water for irrigation. He has just finished marketing the last of his bean crop, and will plant 80 acres for the next crop.

Le Johnsonville is procuring more fruit trees to plant in the large orchard which he has started.

A large shipment of fruit trees has been received by a mercantile company here. Nearly every farmer is planting fruit one to 50 trees this season. Grapevines are also being planted.

John Island, who has been farming near Douglas for the past several years, has taken up a ranch in the McNeal basin and has started some large improvements on his place.

The winter rains have put the earth in fine condition, and more ground is now being broken than in any previous year. Several farmers are planning to build silos this year.

MORMONS PLAN TO PLANT BIG ACREAGE

Douglas, Ariz., Feb. 18.—More land in and about the Mormon colony of Colonia Morales, Sonora, will be tilled this year than ever before, according to J. H. Huber, chief Joseph Lillwhite, recent visitors here.

Though few Mormons are now at the colony, those few are renting large tracts of land to the Mexicans. These renters have been furnished 50,000 pounds of wheat for seedling and the necessary farming implements.

The flour mill has been operating recently on 25,000 bushels of wheat. The flour has been sold to nearby mining camps.

"I TREATS all how the visitors are coming to my house," sighed the retired merchant. "For a long time few people ever came to see me, and I was wondering why I was so unpopular; then, all of a sudden, the tide turned the other way, and for three months the house has looked like an orphan asylum or a retreat for elderly spinsters. I never realized how many aunts and cousins and little nephews and nieces I had until every arriving train began disgorging, of course, like plenty of company, but it does seem to me that my relatives are rubbing it in."

"That's the way everything goes in this world," said the hotel keeper. "It's either a feast or a famine, doggone it. Sometimes, for weeks together, business is so dull in the hotel business that it seems a hollow mockery to go through the motions of setting the tables and minding the beds. The dining room girls haven't enough to do to keep them from getting rusty, and they begin reading silly novels by Bertha M. Clay, and they elope with the first traveling man who comes along. Then, without a moment's warning, and without any visible reason, all the trade in the country will be headed this way, and the hotel will be so crowded that guests have to sleep on the roof or hang themselves to coat hooks in the hall."

"It seems impossible to get enough of anything in this world without getting too much. Last summer, during the Chautauque, one of the greatest men in this country stopped here for a day, and I had quite a pleasant talk with him. He is adored by millions of people, and whenever he goes to a town the citizens get out the triumphal arch and the brass band. I asked him what was the greatest grief of his life, and the tears rose to his eyes as he answered, 'gold headed canes.' He was so overcome by emotion that he couldn't say anything for a few minutes, but when he recovered control of his voice he explained that he had three cords of gold headed canes at home, and he got another one every time he appeared in public."

"A man can take pride in possessing

IN STREAKS Adventures of a Grouch

A reasonable number of gold headed canes, but I can imagine how embarrassing it must be to collect eight or ten new ones every time you go away from home. The great man said that he'd feel ten years younger if some presentation committee would come to him and hand him a tortoise-shell bootjack or a celluloid safety razor, or anything that would break the monotony, but there was no such luck for him. When the spokesman of a committee reared up and began to say that it was the proudest moment of his life, the great man knew what was coming. It was another gold headed cane, and he was expected to shed tears of happiness over it and clasp it to his bosom as though it were the first one he ever saw.

"The same rule holds good with trouble of any kind. It comes in bunches. Just after Christmas my foot swelled up so it looked like an eight day clock. One doctor told me I had gonorrhea, and another said I had rheumatism, and another charged two dollars and said nothing. Whatever it was, it hurt like hell. I could have stood for the anguish, however, if it hadn't been for the accidents that were happening all the time. You may be sure that I took every care to guard that foot from injury, yet I couldn't walk across a room in broad daylight without having it caught in a chair, or the leg of a table."

"One day I took down a large work on natural history, as I wanted to find out if possible what it is that amuses laughing hyenas. The book weighs eighteen pounds and has all sorts of brass ginebreads on the covers. It is an old relic, handed down from the times when bookbinders were blacksmiths in disguise. Well, I sat there reading and looking at the colored pictures and made during the next few days, and I could read them you'd begin to appreciate the flexibility of our language. But I haven't time to stand here listening to you talking all day."

VETERAN IMMIGRATION

C. G. Gately, immigration inspector here and the oldest man in the local service, has been transferred to San Pedro, Cal., and left Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Gately. Mr. Gately had been stationed on the border here for 12 months and had been responsible for many of the big Chinese smuggling and white slave arrests. His transfer makes W. M. Johnson the dean of the immigration force stationed here.

HEADACHY, BILIOUS, CONSTIPATED, CLEAN YOUR LIVER—DIME A BOX

WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

FOR DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR OR ITCHY SCALP—25 CENT DANDERINE

Girls! Girls! Save your hair! Make it grow luxuriant and beautiful.

If you care for heavy hair that glitters with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff, you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This dandruff sear robs the hair of its proper strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine, a tiny drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. It eventually—why not now?—Advertisement.

SUES RAILROAD FOR DEATH OF RACE HORSE

W. B. Freeman is asking the Texas & Pacific Railway company to pay him $2500 for the death of his race horse "Benedict," in a suit filed in the first district court Tuesday afternoon.

The plaintiff says that he shipped the horse from Fort Worth, Texas, to El Paso on November 1, 1912. He bought a ticket for a man called "Dutch," so he says, the horse could be taken care of on the trip. En route, the plaintiff avers, that the conductor would not allow "Dutch" to ride in the car with the horse. Before the train reached El Paso, the plaintiff says that there was a drop in the temperature and no one being with the horse to take care of him, the animal developed pneumonia from which Freeman says the horse died a few days after reaching El Paso.

POTATO QUARANTINE IS OPPOSED BY LEVEIER

Douglas, Ariz., Feb. 18.—A protest against the potato quarantine, maintained by the United States against Mexican spuds, has been forwarded to the department of agriculture at Washington, D. C. by consul Leveier, of the claims that the quarantine is a hindrance to the potato trade.

Cons
